Local Housing Allowance for private tenants

Local Housing Allowance is paid to private tenants (not including housing association tenants). It is based on the make up of your household, what income and savings you have and how many bedrooms you need. The number of bedrooms you need is based on the number, age, and gender of the people in your household and not the number of bedrooms in the property. There are different rates depending on the number of bedrooms you need up to a maximum of 4 bedrooms. These rates are published on our website www.blaby.gov.uk and are available to view at the council offices and our service shops at Blaby and Braunstone. You can also contact the benefits team by phone for this information.

Rent Allowance for housing association tenants

Rent Allowance is paid to Housing Association tenants. It is based on the make up of your household, what income and savings you have and how many bedrooms you need. The number of bedrooms you need is based on the number, age, and gender of the people in your household. If you are of working age and have more bedrooms in the property than you need the amount of housing benefit you receive may be reduced by 14% for 1 extra bedroom or 25% for 2 or more extra bedrooms.
